- 10) Customs Building. One floor brick building adjacent to coast.
- 11) Greek Orthodox Church.
- 12) Sub Prefecture Building. Two floors. There is a small jail in the basement
- 13) Garage. Gasoline for motor vehicles can be obtained here. Also there is a small workshop where repairs are made on cars. It is located about three blocks south of Hotel Imperial.
- 14) Large spring near government school. All townspeople obtain water from this spring. Water is pure.
- 15) Small diesel electric power plant. Fuel is obtained from Vlone (40°27'N, 19°30'E).
- 2. There are three principal streets in this town. All run from north to south, somewhat parallel to the coast line. The main street is named Rrujae epszarit. It is very straight and extends the length of the town from north to south. It is concrete and about 24 feet wide. It is the best street in the town. Drainage is excellent. The next street of importance is named Rrujae Merkato. It is located about 150 meters east of Rrujae epszarit. Rrujae Merkato is paved with small stones and is about 12 feet wide. The third street is not paved and is adjacent to the hills which rise abruptly at the east side of town
- 3. Most residences consist of two rooms, one of which is a basement room. Almost all are of hip roof construction. Most of the people own small farms in the outlying districts.
- 4. The town had a population of about five thousand in 1944. It is located on a flat stretch of land but is surrounded by hills on the eastern edge and the coast on the western edge.
